Correspondence of the "Dem[illegible]

SANTA CRUZ, January 6, 1[illegible]

EDITOR DEMOCRAT:—I have but a f[illegible] moments to write before I go further sout[illegible] I am pleased to notice since I came her[illegible] much that corroborates what I have befo[illegible] expressed regarding the rapidly coming gree[illegible] ness of our happy State. But a few yea[illegible] ago, Santa Cruz was out of the way of [illegible] civilization, and far behind other portions [illegible] the State, and is even yet far behind; t[illegible] the elements of wealth are being rapidly [illegible] veloped.

THE RESOURCES

of this county are, as a general thing, in a prosperous condition. The various manufactories of lime, leather, lumber, powder, glue, etc., etc., are now turning out hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth per month. The agricultural interests are in a very favorable condition, there having been an abundance of rain. The manufacture of butter and cheese is a large item in summing up the products of the county. The grape is being grown to a large extent in the foot-hills. Staves and timber for the manufacture of barrels has become a branch of business which affords employment for a great many men. Fire-wood is being shipped to San Francisco in large quantities. Now that the land titles are generally quieted, all the varied resources will be rapidly developed, serving to make up the great variety of the resources of the State.

THE CLIMATE

is said to be the best in the State, and I believe it is as good, if not the best; though no better than the climate of Yolo county.

COUNTY OFFICERS—PERSONAL.

Upon my arrival, my old friend, and your ex-fellow townsman, Hon. Albert Hagan (now County Judge of Santa Cruz county), kindly invited me to his office and bade me welcome to spend much of my time, which affords me much pleasure. Judge H. has a warm heart, a genial spirit, and a Websterian head, and will, without doubt, honor the position to which the people have chosen him. I had the pleasure of witnessing the opening ceremonies—the initial step. The Judge, though very young (a year younger would have debarred him by Statute limitation), graced the bench with complaisant dignity, and is turning off the accumulated business as business-like as an older man with more experience. Yolo may be proud of having afforded the facilities of a finishing touch, enabling such a heart and head to go forth and do battle, coping with the proverbially talented bar of our State. All the county officers, at present incumbent, seem to be gentlemen, well qualified for their respective positions, and seem to be rather popular with the people. B. F. Bayley, the retiring District Attorney, seems to be a gentleman well qualified for the position; but the superior popularity of Julius Lee, of Watsonville, has given him the place, and I doubt not, from my acquaintance with him, but that he will fill the position with honor to himself, and a credit to the county. J. J. Tidball, the retiring County Clerk, has acquitted himself with marked ability, but had to yield to the people's choice, —— Hobbs, who appears to be a gentleman well qualified for the position. Albert Jones, the retiring Sheriff, is more than ordinarily popular, and is awarded the credit of having done his whole duty in an acceptable manner, though the ever-changing American people preferred Charles Lincoln, seemingly a worthy gentleman, and evidently possessing, to a high degree, the qualifications necessary for the important position of Sheriff. Indeed, the status of Santa Cruz county officers is very high, speaking well for the good sense and elevated character of the people.

SANTA CRUZ

is a very pleasant city, of perhaps four thousand inhabitants—that is, within the jurisdiction, which includes a large area for the purpose of taking in the various manufactories to economize a city government. As far as I am able to judge the city is well-officered by men who govern it in an able, judicious manner. I have only made the acquaintance of one of the leading spirits of the Common Council, Pray, one of the proprietors of the Pacific Ocean House, a house well kept—indeed, a first-class hotel for any city. The two very creditable wharves are kept lively with shipping and receiving freight. The beautiful cove, so lively in Summer with pleasure seekers and bathers, is now deserted.

IN CONCLUSION,

I would say that the rain has fallen almost incessantly since I came here, and I cannot, therefore, say much of the country in this vicinity, not having seen much. My room, at the Pacific Ocean House, is quite comfortable, and, therefore, I am disposed to keep it pretty closely.

In haste, yours, W.

THE venerable Dr. Humphrey once remarked in a lecture: "In selecting your partners for life, first choose persons of naturally good dispositions—persons that are naturally cheerful and gentle. You will, perhaps, be surprised," he added, "to hear a minister of the gospel put cheerfulness and gentleness before piety; but I am of the opinion of Baxter, who said that the grace of God could live with persons that he could not."

The Skein.

[illegible], slip your skein, my Kitty
[illegible]ny hands and wind, and wind,
[illegible] while, with little pity,
[illegible]ling, tangling heart and mind;
[illegible] eyes upon the wool!
[illegible] me, my beautiful!

[illegible]ou droop your eyes completely,
[illegible]ding, winding, dreamily;
[illegible]efore, wherefore smile so sweetly
[illegible] a thing that cannot see?
[illegible] must smile, smile this way!
[illegible] bear it as I may!

The rosebud-fingers flitting
Swift about the colored ball!
How my heart beats time, while sitting,
Still I try to bear it all:
Kitty, do you know or care
'Tis my heart you're winding there?

Kitty, I am in a vision!
All the world to mist doth die;
Only, in an air Elysian,
Little fairy fingers fly:
Surely, if they flit too near,
I shall catch and kiss them, dear!

Tangled! pout not, frown not, Kitty!
Though I gladly bear the pain;
For your anger is so pretty
It may make me sin again.

There! 'tis well! Now, wind and wind,
Tangling further heart and mind!

Now, 'tis done! the last thread lingers
Sadly from me slow to part;
Can'st thou see that in my fingers
I am holding up my heart?
Wind and wind! I do not care!
Smile or frown! and I will bear!

Ah! so fast and quick you wind it,
I no more can keep it mine;
Do you wonder that you find it
Throbbing now, close, close to thine?
Tangled, tangled are the twain:
Kiss, kiss, kiss them free again!

—[Robert Buchanan.

TYPE METAL IN CALIFORNIA.—William Faulkner & Son, Type Founders, have received an invoice of six tons combined antimony and lead from the Montezuma Silver Mine, in Humboldt county, Nevada. Heretofore a large amount of money has been expended for imported lead and antimony for the purpose of type founding; but hereafter this money will be retained in the country to feed and support large numbers of our own people to whom this branch of business will furnish remunerative employment. Until lately, the mixed lead and antimony taken from the Montezuma mine was discarded as valueless, but the assay shows it to consist of seventy parts pure antimony and thirty parts pure lead, and entirely free from sulphur. A proper admixture of the other metals entering into the composition of type, alone remains to be done. Antimony is worth about sixteen cents per pound, and lead from eight to nine cents in this market, but the metal from the mine above mentioned is laid down here at eight cents the pound, making a difference of nearly two-thirds. This will enable our type founders to produce a much cheaper article than heretofore, and must necessarily diminish the costs of books and other publications turned out on this coast. The quantity of metal in question is said to be very large, and is about to become an article of considerable export to New York. The pigs examined by us are very neat and handsome, and thirty tons are to be shipped to James Connor's Sons, New York. The type made in this city is ten per cent. harder than the imported, and quite as tough. The New York article will receive a clear and fine impression from the California type without defacing the latter. This fact exhibits great superiority, and although it may not appear so very finely finished, it leaves as clear and handsome an impression and lasts much longer. The firm already mentioned are about to cast several fonts of Russian type, for a paper which is to be printed in the Russian language in this city. This will be the only thing of the kind in the United States. There are at present over six thousand of that nationality in California, and they are determined to have a journal of their own. This product of the Montezuma mine affords another convincing proof of the wonderfully copious natural resources of our coast. Everything requisite for human existence abounds in exhaustless quantity.—[Pacific.

A CURIOUS LOVE STORY.—A very curious story is told by several of the ancient writers respecting Egirvard, a secretary to Charlemange, and a daughter of that Emperor. The Secretary fell in love with the Princess, who at length allowed him to visit her. One winter's night he stayed with her very late, and in the meantime a deep snow had fallen. If he left, his foot-marks would be observed, and yet to stay would expose him to danger. At length the Princess resolved to carry him on her back to a neighboring house, which she did. It happened, however, that from the window of his bedroom the Emperor saw the whole affair. In the assembly of his lords, on the following day, when Egirvard and his daughter were present, he asked what ought to be done to the man who had compelled a king's daughter to carry him on her shoulders, through frost and snow, in the middle of a winter's night. They answered that he was worthy of death. The lovers were alarmed, but the Emperor, addressing Egirvard, said: "Had'st thou loved my daughter, thou should'st have come to me; thou art worthy of death, but I give thee two lives. Take thy fair porter in marriage; fear God and love one another."

A WORTHY deacon in a certain State hired a journeyman farmer from a neighboring town for the Summer, and induced him—although he was unaccustomed to church-going—to accompany the family to church, on the first Sabbath of his stay. Upon their return to the deacon's house, he asked his hired man how he liked the preaching. He replied: "I don't like to hear any minister preach politics." "I am very sure you heard no politics to-day," said the deacon. "I am sure that I did," said the man. "Mention the passage," said the deacon. "I will. He said, 'If the Democrats scarcely are saved, where will the Republicans appear?'" "Ah," said the deacon, "you mistake. These were the words: 'If the righteous scarcely are saved, how will the ungodly and wicked appear?'" "Oh, yes," said the man, "he might have used those words, but I k[illegible] deuced well what he meant!"

NEW YORK consumes a thousand barrels, or nearly a million of eggs per day.

A SOCIETY FOR SHORTENING DRESSES.—Short dresses are very charming when nicely made, well cut, and not ridiculously too short. From the specimens which we have observed as actually worn, we are inclined, however, to think that the combination of the serviceable with the elegant, is not as yet reached by a very considerable number of ladies, or their dress makers. However, the adoption of dresses of a reasonable length for walking does not appear at present to be so entirely beyond the reach of possibiltty, as it did so not very long ago.

We do see still, however, a much greater proportion of trains than can be considered desirable at any time in walking, and much more now in the condition of the streets and roads consequent on the weather. The inconvenience and ugliness, and dirtiness of these trailing dresses would, we should have imagined, have brought this fashion to an end long ago. But the regulators of fashion seem to have willed it otherwise, and women (not to speak of the men) have suffered.

The long trains, even in well cut dresses, are too long to be graceful. They do not suggest flowing robes, but a ridiculous superfluity of material, which is not by any means elegant. The silk, or satin, or stuff, spread out on the ground, inspires many with a strong desire to walk on it. We have been amused and interested to observe that an attempt is being made (so it is said) to utilize this instinctive desire, so as to promote the adoption of short dresses.

The Presse of Vienne mentions that a society has been established in that city, whose object is to be the suppression of the long trains worn by the Viennes ladies, which "are not only an obstruction to street traffic, but also, by raising enormous clouds of dust, cause considerable danger to the lungs and eyes." The mode of operation of the members of this society is to be, that "the instant they perceive a lady with a long train in the street, they are immediately to tread on the same with such force as to produce a considerable rent in the dress." When the lady arrested in this manner turns for an explanation, she is to receive apologies for the awkwardness of the perpetrator. Should these, however, be insufficient to appease her anger, and should she claim compensation in a court of justice, the society engages to pay all expenses. This society is said to be a secret one. Its members probably dread the odium which would attach to any known setter of his foot upon the offending garments.

A DREAM REALIZED.—Some time during last summer a stranger stopped at a farmhouse and asked permission to stay over night, which was readily granted by the hospitable farmer. A couple of hours after retiring for the night, the stranger was taken suddenly and violently ill, and for several days was apparently deranged. On his recovery he informed his host that during his illness he had dreamed three nights in succession that he had discovered in a certain ravine, near the house, under a rock, an earthen crock containing a large amount of silver. At this the old gentleman expressed surprise, and spoke of it as being a very mysterious dream. Afterward, however, they were walking together in that direction, and the dream was again adverted to by the stranger. An examination was at once proposed by the farmer, to satisfy their curiosity. The rock was soon found, and after brushing the leaves carefully away, it was removed, and to their utter amazement there sat a crock full of silver. They took it out and conveyed it secretly to the house, and, on examination, it was found to contain $1,000 which they agreed to divide equally between them. The day after this discovery, as the stranger was about to take his leave, he complained to his benefactor of the inconvenience of carrying so much silver, when an exchange was proposed, the stranger receiving his share in notes. It was not long after the departure of his guest, however, till mine host made another discovery—his $1,000 in silver was counterfeit, and he had thus been ingeniously swindled out of $500. The story was kept quiet for several months, but it finally leaked out, and we now give it to our readers precisely as we heard it.—[Eastern paper.

DANGEROUS REMINISCENCES.—The following forcible and pertinent reminiscence of a bygone era of prosperity and peace, indulged in by a Radical organ, the New York Times, are too pregnant with danger to the Radical ascendency to be often revived in that quarter: "It seems to be a well authenticated historical fact that the Republic did get on quite comfortably for something like eighty years while the blacks did not fight our battles nor control our elections. It is true there were a good many things that were not exactly as they should have been, but nevertheless the country prospered; the crops were good; the liberties of the people were protected; we went through one war with Great Britain, and another with Mexico very creditably; commerce flourished; taxation was light; we paid our national debt; foreign nations envied us, and we, in turn, and for the purpose of keeping good fellowship, despised them not—and on the whole we got along very comfortably." These were days of Democratic ascendency. The day is dawning again when the best lights of this picture, without its darker shades, shall, under Democratic ascendency, be renewed.

SAN FRANCISCO POST OFFICE.—Post Master Perkins reports the following business done at the San Francisco Post Office during the past year: Letters received for the city, 1,854,840; for distribution, 803,540; sent East, 2,559,468; number of registered letters, 8,600; 6,026 were sent to the dead letter office at Washington; 431,482 letters were sent East overland, and 399,584 by steamer; $61,005 was received for envelopes sold, and $119,460 for stamps; the stamps and envelopes canceled amount to $114,763. During the year 186 overland mails have been received, and 1,169½ tons of printed matter received and delivered; 226,778 letters have been distributed to 9,573 persons holding boxes. Since the 5th of February, 1866, seventy-nine money order offices have been established on this coast.

OUR Government, as administered for some years, seems to have been nothing better than a patent thieving-machine. As such, it would take the first premium at any World's Fair.

DOMESTIC COMFORTS.—It is curious to learn how long it took mankind to discover the most obvious conveniences of civilized life. Sancho Panza called down blessings on the man who invented sleep. Professor Fulton tells us that one of the greatest improvements introduced by the Greeks into the art of sleeping was the practice of undressing before going to bed—a thing unheard of until hit upon by their inventive genius. Even now there are nations who never enjoy the luxury of taking off their clothes at night. The Romans went to bed to eat their dinners, and there are whole races now who don't know enough to sit down like rational beings, but squat on their hams instead. The Romans went to bed early because they hadn't genius enough to invent a candle. They trundled off to bed as the darkness began; and in Athens, Egypt, Palestine, Asia Minor, everywhere the ancients went to bed, like good boys, from seven to nine o'clock. "Tarquinius," says De Quincy, "might be a superb fellow, but we doubt whether he ever saw a farthing rushlight." This absence of artificial light among the ancients was the cause of all their magnificent shows going on by daylight. The exhibitions of the amphitheater and the circus all took place in the daylight. But how incomparably greater would have been the splendor by lamplight. Even so simple a matter as breakfast was not invented for several centuries after the republican era of Rome. It took as much time and research to arrive at that great discovery as at the Copernium system. The morning meal of the Romans was but a bite of biscuit—tea and coffee not being heard of then. Probably our decendants, some centuries hence will laugh at our ignorance of many of the inconveniences of life that will then be in vogue.

"DAT ISH ME!"—Jews are first-rate citizens, all business men, but keeners on a trade. Sharper than chain lightning, there is nothing allowed to stand between them and a trade. They seem to take as naturally to the clothing business as a duck does to water. Not long ago, a gentleman wishing to purchase a fine blue cloth indigo-dyed coat, and calling upon a Hebrew, "in whom there is no guile," and looking over his stock, found that which appeared to suit him.

The purchaser was very particular to impress upon the seller that he wanted an indigo, not a log-wood dyed cloth, the smell of the latter being offensive to him. The coat was selected and tried on, when our Hebrew friend commenced encomiums upon it: "Now yust look at dat! It vas feet you like de baber on de vall. Dat ish yust vat you vant!"

"Yes" said the customer, "but this is not what I want. This is a logwood-dyed coat. I don't like the smell."

"My frient," says our dealer, "dat coat is yust vat you vant. But it ish not dat coat dat smells dat vay; no sir, dat ish me!"

It is needless to say that the gentleman did not purchase.

A YOUNG wife, within a few months after her marriage, was horrified one night, on going to the door to let her husband in, to find him intoxicated—so much so that he could hardly stand. A thunder-stroke in a clear winter's sky could not have more surprised her. Friends were in the drawing room, expecting him every minute. With a woman's quickness and instinct, she hurried him to his chamber, with loving words put him to sleep, made some excuse for the mutual benefit of friends and servants, watched over him through the weary hours of the night, and the next morning when he awoke, she had no harsh reproof for him, no withering rebuke, but tenderly alluded to the facts of the case and kissed away his confusion. There it dropped. He never tasted another drop; raised a family of sons who are responsible and successful merchants in New York and Philadelphia, and dying, left a name for mercantile integrity which any man might envy.

A CLERGYMAN in Springfield, Massachusetts, who is given to figurative expressions, said in a sermon a Sunday or two ago that "the columbiad of a pure heart should be loaded with the projectile of prayer." Living near the Armory seems to be very inspiring. And the clergyman who used the following metaphor at a funeral in Paris must have had a train of cars in full view from his study window: "At the death of the just, the locomotive of the soul, driven by the coal of faith and the steam of hope, dashes along the rails of charity toward that immovable depôt where is found the eternal symbol which is God."

A TICKET.—The Quincy Union, of January 4th, says:

A friend, in writing from the East, says that "President making is the chief occupation of the politicians of all parties at the present time." He further states that "a number of influential members of the Democratic party have expressed themselves in favor of Henry H. Haight, of California, for the Democratic candidate for President, and Thomas H. Seymour, of Connecticut, for Vice President." That ticket would suit us.

POLITICS AND RELIGION.—An old gray-haired political preacher went to White Haven a few days ago to solicit a call. He attended a prayer meeting and made a loyal political prayer, during which all the Democrats left the house excepting one deacon, who followed with a Democratic prayer, during which all the loyal left, leaving the deacon and political preacher alone. The deacon concluded not to give him a call.

WOULD SHINE.—A leading negro elected to the Constitutional Convention of Virginia, says the Day Book, can neither read nor write, and he has been five times imprisoned for stealing. He is a good member of the "God and morality party." That darkey would shine in Congress like a patent leather boot.

AN Irishman decapitated a turtle and afterward was amusing himself by putting sticks in its mouth, which it bit off with violence. A lady who saw the proceeding exclaimed: "Why, Patrick, I thought the turtle was dead?" "So he is, ma'am, but the crather's not sensible of it."

CLEVELAND, OHIO, spent last year $1,800,000 for various kinds of "grog."

YOLO COUNTY DEMOCRAT.

SATURDAY, : : : : JANUARY 18, 1868.

WHAT A COUNTRY!—In reviewing the flagrant outrages of the plan of Radical reconstruction, Major Wright, a native of Virginia, used the following language in a speech delivered by him at a Democratic mass meeting recently held in St. Louis:

I live in District No. 1—the first born of Despotism in North America—General Schofield is my master. Stripped of every constitutional immunity, I hold every personal right by the frail tenure of his will. He can deprive me of my property, banish me from home, separate me from my children, throw me into prison, and there is not a civil judicial tribunal in District No. 1, to which I can appeal for redress. He can do everything with me but take my life, and he can take that with the consent of Andy Johnson.

What a terrible truth is conveyed to the mind of the patriot by the declarations contained in those short sentences! What a stinging rebuke to the indifference manifested by the masses at the North, while our brethren in the South are suffering the terrors of iron-handed despotism! The story of that man's wrongs is but the history of thousands whose dearest rights have been sacrificed to the misrule of Radicalism. And while these evils continue there is no power in authority which may be appealed to in confidence for a restoration of the rights of the people. The President of the United States, once falsely designated by his Radical supporters as a "second Andrew Jackson," to whom the oppressed have looked in vain hope for an amelioration of their condition, has disappointed them. They have asked for bread and have received a stone in return. He knows and feels the reality of the wrongs imposed upon them by a corrupt Congress, and dares to express sentiments in condemnation of the course pursued by that body, yet has not the nerve to defend his own sense of justice, humanity and honor. He tells the people that the defeat of the Southern armies must not be regarded as the triumph of lawless principles, and yet discord reigns defiantly over a great portion of the Government. He says that the Military Bill is a flagrant violation of the Constitution, and at the same time suffers his own actions to be controlled by military power. He declares that that country, the richest on the globe in natural resources, is lost, if not brought under the protection of a free Constitution, and yet endures the humiliating ordeal of lending his power to enforce enactments directly in violation of every true principle of a constitutional government. The only hope for the future of the country rests in the abiding determination of the people to change the entire administration and reinaugurate the old-timed prosperity under Democratic rule.

EXCITED BRAINS.—In one column of the New York Day Book—a paper of the same school with the Examiner, and presided over by the same sweet genius of charity—the word "bigger" occurs twenty-nine times.—[San Francisco Times.

The Day Book does wrong to infringe on the patent-right of the Times and other journals "presided over by the same sweet genius of charity" whose sense of propriety would not be outraged, in the least, if other people would only call the "nigger" by some more euphonious title—as "men and brethren," "colored citizens," "American citizens of African descent," "black warriors," etc., etc. Could'nt the Day Book and Examiner afford to gratify the Times in view of the fact that certain journals are now complacently writing "Democratic party" instead of the whole columns of "copperheads" they set up a short time ago.

SUNDAY LAW.—A petition in reference to the Sunday law is being circulated throughout the State, for signatures, in the following form:

To the Honorable the Senate and Assembly of California, in session at Sacramento—Learning that action is proposed in the Legislature with a view to weaken or abolish the existing Sunday laws, your petitioners, irrespective of sect or party, earnestly pray that if said laws may not be made stronger, they at least be allowed to remain in their present form and force; and as we ask this in the interest of true virtue and religion, so it is in the spirit of American civilization, and for the highest weal of the State.

NEW PAPER.—The State Capital Reporter commenced its existence on Sunday last, and judging from its appearance we predict that its record will be one of usefulness and honor. It displays marked ability in its editorials, as well as good judgment in its selections, and in its neat typographical appearance it has but few equals. It is devoted to the true interests of the people in the battle for Right, and will add another power to the strong arm of Democracy.

PERIODICALS.—Major Jack Stratman, of San Francisco, will accept our thanks for a package of valuable Eastern papers. His house, No. 506, Washington Street, is one of the most complete literary emporiums on the Pacific coast. In addition to his extensive trade in newspapers, magazines and reviews, he will attend to all orders for books, stationery, music, etc., and make purchases of all kinds outside of his regular business.

PLACER HERALD.—This staunch Democratic paper of fifteen years standing, published at Auburn, Placer county, has recently changed hands. Our old friend Hon. Joseph Walkup is now one of the principle owners and publishers. Under such management and control a continuation of its prosperity is certain. The Rads. in that region need look for no quarter from the "Old War-horse."

COLUSA SUN.—This worthy advocate of Democracy commenced a new volume on Saturday last. We wish it success.

Hope Has Not Forsaken Them.

In the gloom of bitter Northern prejudices that still hovers over the ill-fated land of the South, in the dark catalogue of desperation and crime committed by reckless, superstitious savages turned loose upon the Southern people, there is still reason to hope for a favorable change in their condition. Amid the broken fountains of social order, the revelings and ravages of wretchedness, poverty and deep wrongs now endured by States held in subjection at the remorseless dictation of military authority, there is still a hope for the restoration of their rights under the old Constitution. While the corrupt leaders of a corrupt party in the North are—for unholy purposes—endeavoring to conceal from the people the true condition of the South, by false representations, the true representatives of national interests in that down-trodden section are preparing addresses setting forth the real state of affairs, and the proper method of remedying the evils which surround them; and day after day new light, through other channels, is breaking in upon the minds of more charitably-disposed persons belonging to the prejudiced party of the North, which is calculated to lead them to a full and comprehensive realization of the great wrongs perpetrated by dishonorable legislation upon their Southern brethren. And herein consists the hope of the oppressed, for all that is necessary to prepare the way for righting these wrongs is a full knowledge of their hideous deformity. This knowledge once attained, the people will rise up in their might and hurl from power the last vestige of Mongrelism that curses the land with its unholy presence. That this will be done, and that the country will once more enjoy a season of prosperity, is a self-evident proposition that admits of no doubt. The question of time alone affects the realization of the cherished hope, and in order to hasten that time it is the duty of every Democrat and lover of his whole country to lose no opportunity for holding up to public condemnation the iniquities of the corruptionists now holding sway—a sway that, in disregard of the material interests of the country, is every day sacrificing the just rights of the poor to the unjust demands of a bond-holding aristocracy who revel in their ill-gotten wealth—a power which, in violation of the laws of God and man, is attempting to make equal, socially, that which the Almighty made unequal—a dominion that is endeavoring to control the destinies of a people possessed of national pride, by forcing upon them the suffrages of an inferior race of besotted, ignorant beings, whose highest conceptions of liberty culminate in idleness, debauchery, theft, arson and murder.

Let every Democrat and honest Conservative in the North, who has an abiding hope in the resurrection of the Constitution, and the final unity of the interests and fraternal affections of the whole people, ring these truths in the ears of detructionists and stand up like men in the great battle for Right, and another twelve-month will witness the consummation of our brightest anticipations.

We repeat, that it is only necessary to open the eyes of the masses to a sense of the real dangers that beset them, in order to prepare them for action in the great work of restoring the liberties of a down-trodden people.

EXCLUSIVE PATRIOTS.—The most noisy, obtrusive, and intolerant of those politicians who persist in calling every man a "rebel" a "copperhead" who is not willing to pronounce their doctrines the quintessence of loyalty and patriotism, says the New York Sunday Times, are always fellows who, in the early part of the war, were rabid secessionists. They now hope to atone for this by being as rabid on the Union side. What journal, for instance, used to denounce the "star spangled banner," as "hate's polluted rag" but the Tribune? Who used to cry aloud so lustily for the dissolution of the Union as Wendell Phillips? Who used to invite the "British red-coats" to cross the Atlantic and re-possess Great Britain of these her "ancient colonies," but Garrison and his co-adjutors? Yet these are now the men and the journals that claim all the Unionism in the nation, and stigmatize as "copperheads" we who never swerved from our devotion to the Union—we who, for so many years, combatted their traitorous outcries against the Constitution, and, when they called it a "compact with hell," vindicated the righteousness of that ægis of our liberties.

ACCIDENTALLY DROWNED.—The steamer San Joaquin arrived about eight o'clock yesterday morning from the vicinity of Colusa. It is reported by the Captain that a young man named Sylvester Rosseau was accidentally drowned, about ninety miles above the city, via the river, in an attempt to rescue a lamb that had fallen overboard. Deceased entered the wheel of the steamer and attempted thence to save the lamb, and in so doing slipped and fell, and was drowned. We understand that he might have been saved had not the oars been removed from their legitimate place, whereby the boat could not be manned. Deceased was aged about twenty-eight years, and was married. It is reported that his wife resides in Oregon, that he leaves a sister residing in this city or San Francisco, and that his father and mother are buried at Auburn. The body was not recovered.—[Capital Reporter, 12th inst.

GRATEFUL.—The Democratic members of the Legislature, by a unanimous vote, returned thanks to Marcus D. Boruck, an ultra-Radical of the negro equality school, and one of the most unscrupulous revilers of the Democracy, for graciously condescending to accept at their hands, eight dollars a day during a month, for doing what the Clerk could have done without him. We understand Boruck chuckles in his sleeve at this overwhelming manifestation of magnanimity.—[Examiner.

PUBLIC DOCUMENTS.—Our thanks are due Senator Mizner for valuable State papers.

EDITOR DEMOCRAT: Permit me to call the attention of the readers of your paper to an important decision of the Supreme Court, which directly affects the interests of the tax-payers of our county. The gist of said decision is, that no species of property can, under our State Constitution, be exempt from taxation. Consequently, the property of churches, benevolent societies, growing crops, mortgages, etc., must be listed and assessed by the County Assessors, and taxes thereon paid, the same as other property. In the Spring of each year is the time our Assessors are by law compelled to list all property, and at that time our crops are all growing, and the aggregate value of the growing crops of this county—in good crop seasons—is equal to one-third the value of all other taxable property in the county. This species of property has heretofore been exempt from taxation; consequently, the rate of tax on the balance of the property was proportionately larger. Now, however, the aspect of things is materially changed. If the Supervisors levy the taxes at anything near the rates heretofore levied, there will be an excess of revenue of at least one-third over that of former years, and this excess will fall almost entirely on the farming community.

I think the attention of farmers and the community generally should be called to this subject, that they may be enabled to express their views, and thereby enable the Supervisors—when they meet in March next—to act advisedly in levying the taxes for 1868.

"THE OCCIDENT."—This promised organ of the Presbyterian churches of this coast, has made its appearance, and is a bright, clean-faced and carefully edited paper. The religious press on this coast needs more vim and earnestness—more life and human wide-awakeness—more ready sympathy with men and things—before it can become a great power for good. No paper ought to succeed which is left to edit itself, or which is chiefly in the hands of over-worked pastors, who answer the call for copy with a hasty use of scissors and paste. "The Occident" promises better things, and we shall look for improvement in future numbers. Bancroft & Co. are the publishers. Rev. Dr. Eels and Rev. E. B. Walsworth, editors.

So says the San Francisco Times, and so say we.

"THE newspapers of a town are its life blood. Without them it can not prosper. The better they are supported at home, the more powerful will their influence be abroad. In young cities, struggling, as are those along the Missouri, for municipal supremacy, the daily papers have done more and are doing more to aid in building up the towns in which they are published, and to increase their business than all the merchants together. To the merchants they are indispensable, as those who have made use of them as a medium through which to reach the public, well know. And they contribute largely to the prosperity of every citizen, for their influence is felt in a thousand different ways and exerted in a thousand different directions.—[Champion, Atchison, Kan.

YOLO.—Traveling in this county is now done almost entirely by water—boats ply in all directions.—[Napa Reporter.

Don't tell any more such yarns as that; wait till we ask for the State Capital. Yolo county is all right; there is no boating here, it is the Napa Reporter that was steamboated.

The graveling is but approximately estimated, as I do not know the extent of the gravel-bed from which it is expected to be obtained. It is proposed to take the earth from the upper side for the purpose of making it available for boating during the time that the water is too high to pass over the whole line with teams. The grade is proposed to be made no higher than is needed for a good road-bed—anything additional would make it more likely to be washed away. There would seem to be no greater need of water-way, besides the present canal, than to pass the water of Cache Creek, for when the Sacramento overflows its banks it would require the whole tule width—300 rods.

The present inconvenience—the advantages of delivering our grain at this point last year—the promise of a coming crop, with the many relative advantages that suggest themselves to all, are some of the many reasons why all should join together and construct the work early in the coming season.

WASHINGTON INTELLIGENCE.—Among the special dispatches to the Union the following appears under date January 14th:

Much interest is felt respecting the President's action in the case of Stanton. The President's friends say that Johnson had an understanding with Grant that the latter would give him notice before retiring from the War Office. Grant, however, retired immediately on receiving notice of the official action of the Senate. The President himself says there is no authority for the statement that he will refuse to recognize Stanton.

SLEIGH-RIDING.—Our old friend, "Bill Dadd, the Scribe," has turned up at Cottonwood, and notwithstanding the many winters that have passed over his venerable head he seems to enjoy the present one with peculiar gusto. He sends us the following account of a "high old" sleigh-ride which he took the other day: "'Oh, the snow, the beautiful snow!' sang some one long ago, who probably went for a ride with a charming femininity by his side. Perhaps he had a bran new cutter, and the girl of his choice, (he'd have none but her), with tinkling bells and a buffalo's hide that kept the cold weather all on the outside. His heart was warm, and his blood grew warmer, as he squeezed his girl in the cutter's corner, forgetting all sorrows that ever were human, 'neath the magical smile of a charming woman whose presence prevented his being froze from his assinine ears to his web-foot toes. I happened to think of this, last morn, as I rolled out of bed, cold, lazy and lorn, and saw the white snow piled over the plains, suggestive of sleigh-rides, cold ears and chilblains. There was a white carpet, eight inches on a level, as sure as the fact that his Highness, the devil, will nip you and your partner sooner or later, and all who do anything with a newspaper. But about our snow-storm: as sure as you're born we've not wood enough to keep ourselves warm; the women are cross, the children are crying, and my only clean shirt on the clothesline is drying—if that was mended I could come to town; oh, curse all the snow and the mud on the ground. But, yesterday, feeling as though I was young, my friend and myself constructed a 'pung,' put a crockery crate on a stout pair of runners and took a sleigh-ride like a couple of bummers. As over the snow we swiftly did glide, I thought him a woman that sat by my side; I gathered my strength, pushed back my grey hairs and gave him a buss quite unawares. He gave me a love-pat—a sockdolergen thud, that knocked me clean out of the 'pung' in the mud. I picked myself up in a state of dejection, and the rest of the way I hugged recollection. But when we returned I got rid of my friend, by dumping him over the 'pung's' hinder end; then persuaded a sample of beauty and grace and balmoral petticoats to sit in his place. We rode over the plains till the darling was freezing, (I loosened the end of my nose by hard sneezing); then we returned and I put up the sleigh for the use of my children, at some future day; but I think 'twill be long, if ever, again, that a snow-storm like this will cover the plain. I was glad when it came, I'll be glad when its gone—you'll be glad that this letter's not very long."

SNOW STORM.—We were visited on Saturday evening last by a snow storm which stands unrivaled in the annals of meteorology in this valley. Those who retired early on that evening were surprised on Sunday morning to find the earth everywhere clothed in white; and when the real depth of the strange visitor was ascertained, a general belief was indulged in that quite a revolution had taken place in the affairs of our climate. On several occasions, heretofore, there has been a light fall of snow in the valley which remained on the ground only a few hours, passing away without claiming more attention than other unusual circumstances. The storm of Saturday night, however, gathered the fleecy clouds in more palpable form and covered the real estate of astonished Yolo-ites with real genuine snow to the depth of from six to eight inches.

BEAT IT.—We often see the innocence of children's thoughts and words portrayed in articles in Harper's Drawer, which excite mirth, and even admiration; and we cannot refrain from giving publicity to the following, which occurred but a few days ago in Woodland: A little five-year-old boy, on being sent by his mother to a neighbor's house after milk, the neighbor woman went into the cellar to get it, when the little fellow followed; and on observing that she was about to skim the milk, he remarked: "Mother didn't say for me to tell you to skim it; but you may if you want to."

"THAT'S THE WAY THE MONEY GOES."—At the late session of the Board of Supervisors there were county warrants ordered issued to the amount of $2,341 54; of which sum $906 18 were for Hospital expenses and care of the destitute in various parts of the county. The balance, $1,435 36, was allowed against the General and Contingent Funds—$337 25 for services, properly paid out of the General Fund, and $1,048 11 for road services—nearly the whole for building "roads" on the Sacramento river, formerly called "levees."

AMUSING INCIDENTS OF THE STORM.—A dignified Professor was visited early on Sunday morning by a party of his "young ideas," who gave him, unceremoniously, a practical demonstration of their "shooting" propensities, which resulted in a complete change in the style of his "tile." Afterward, however, the Professor got even by washing, with snow, the face of one of the youngsters, who had straggled from the main army. A few hours later, a sedate member of the press, starting out for a horseback ride, was surrounded by a superior force which showered upon him a perfect storm of compressed snow-flakes, compelling him to dismount and beat a hasty retreat, leaving his horse and hat in possession of the enemy. He was last seen dodging into a saloon, where it is said he took refuge, with sugar in it.

EXCITING SPORT.—In the early part of the week, this town was made quite lively by the rare sport of snow-balling, in which the young and old, grave and gay, all seemed bent on having a good time. A large crowd collected on Main street, and being divided into various detachments, kept up a continual volley, while the merry shouts of advancing and retreating parties could be heard a mile away. The passer-by was almost invariably greeted with a shower of balls, which were received good-naturedly, while the recipient of the favor joined heartily in the battle against his assailants.

TUBE WELLS.—The great trouble experienced in tapping the lower veins of water without adulterating them with the impurities of those nearer the surface has led to many devices to attain the desired object. The most plausible method, of which we have any knowledge, is that known as "Lewis' Patent Tube Well," county rights to which are offered for sale by W. P. Kirkland, of San Francisco, to whose advertisement, in another column, we call the especial attention of our readers.

COTTONWOOD.—The farmers in the vicinity of Cottonwood have planted a large amount of grain this season—the number of acres sowed exceeds by far that in cultivation last year. We learn that many teams engaged in plowing will soon have to be stopped, owing to the scarcity of hay and grain feed in the neighborhood.

BOARD OF EXAMINATION.—By reference to the advertisement of Superintendent Darby, it will be seen that the Board, whose business it is to examine teachers who desire certificates, will meet for that purpose at the Court House, in Woodland, on Saturday, February 1st.

SENT TO STOCKTON.—Henry Hayden, an insane man, was sent below in charge of special Deputy Sheriff McDonald, on Wednesday last. His loss of reason is said to have been caused by financial troubles.

AUCTION.—A list of property, seized for non-payment of taxes due the United States, will be sold by Deputy Collector Loring, at Washington, on the 25th instant. See advertisement.

TO CORRESPONDENTS. — "*"—"Gathering Flowers" will appear next week. "Max"—Your communication did not come to hand. "W."—Please write names plainer.

THE Second Quarterly Meeting of the M. E. Church of the Cacheville circuit will commence at Cacheville to-day, at 11 o'clock, A. M. Presiding Elder Hill will be present.

ROADS.—The melting snow has made roads almost impassable in many places. Between Woodland and Knight's Landing the travel is very difficult.

TRANSFER.—The Post-office block, on Main street, formerly owned by J. S. Cunningham, was sold by him last week to Ruggles & Machefert.

THE Sacramento river at Knight's Landing, at last accounts, was falling slowly.

THE weather during the week has been quite cold.

PLENTY OF ROOM YET.—Langley's Almanac gives the total area of the three Pacific States and four Territories, (not including Arizona) at 815,770 square miles, and the population at 737,000 souls. As this is considerably less than one person to the square mile, it will be seen that there is plenty of room for more people. With only six persons to the square mile, the population of the territory alluded to would be 4,890,620. The soil can support at least fifty to the square mile, or a total population of 40,000,000.—[Morning Call.

POISONED BY EATING TOADSTOOLS.—On Sunday last three of the family of Mr. McIntyre, who resides on Eddy street near Devisdero, were poisoned by eating toadstools which they mistook for mushrooms. One of the children, aged eight years died on Sunday evening. The others will probably recover.—[Examiner, Jan 14th.

YOLO COUNTY DEMOCRAT.

The Girl for Me.

Just fair enough to be pretty,
Just gentle enough to be sweet,
Just saucy enough to be witty,
Just dainty enough to be neat.

Just tall enough to be graceful,
Just slight enough for a fay,
Just dress enough to be tasteful,
Just merry enough to be gay.

Just tears enough to be tender,
Just sighs enough to be sad,
Tones soft enough to remember [glad.
Your heart through their cadence made

Just meek enough for submission,
Just bold enough to be brave,
Just pride enough for ambition,
Just thoughful enough to be grave.

A tongue that can talk without harming,
Just mischief enough for to tease,
Manners pleasant enough to be charming,
That put you at once at your ease.

Disdain for to put down presumption,
Sarcasm to answer a fool, [tion,
Cool contempt enough shown to assump-
Proper dignity always the rule.

Flights of fair fancy ethereal,
Devotion to science full paid,
Stuff of this sort of material
Poets and painters are made.

Generous enough, and kind-hearted,
Pure as the angels above—
Oh! from her may I never be parted,
For such is the maiden I love.

A YANKEE having told an Englishman that he shot, on one particular occasion, nine hundred and ninety-nine snipe, his interlocutor asked him why he didn't make it a thousand at once.

"No," said he, "not likely I'm going to tell a lie for one snipe."

Whereupon the Englishman, rather "riled," and determined not to be outdone, began to tell a long story of a man having swam from Liverpool to Boston.

"Did you see him?" asked the Yankee.

"Why, of course I did. I was coming across, and our vessel passed him a mile out of Boston harbor."

"Well," said the Yankee, "I'm glad ye saw him, stranger, 'coz yer a witness that I did it. That was me!"

ABOUT BOYS.—Teach a boy to stand up for the truth—and fight for it if need be—he will lack neither physical power nor moral energy; and the mental faculties will suffer nothing in the exercise. If he can despise "bullies," and dare to be called a "sneak," he will conquer all things needful to render him an enlightened member of society, and an honorable citizen of the world. A boy who is well trained at home has little to fear in this way at school; young Valiant-for-the-Truth will command respect even from those who affect to contemn and shun him. Having passed through the ordeal of school life victoriously, he becomes a man, builds his castle, and takes up his abode in it.

THE New Bedford (Mass.) Mercury records this instance of munificence:

An appeal recently made to a religious society, not more than a thousand miles off, in behalf of a benevolent enterprise, was met with a donation of three dollars. Of this sum, one dollar was given by the sexton of the church, one by the bell-ringer, and the third represented the millionnaires in the pews.

"GOOD-MORNING Uncle Jim."

"Good-morning."

"Well, you got your daughters married off, have you?"

"Yes."

"Really, Providence smiles upon you."

"Smiles! no, bless you, she snickered right out!"

A DIMINUTIVE colored man, about fifty years of age, living in Frogtown, south-west of the Capital, Washington, and well known to many of the residents of that locality as "Jeff," is now living with his third wife, and has been the father of thirty children. Of the thirty all were boys, with one exception.

IF going uncovered indicates a reverent spirit, as is claimed in some countries, many of our ladies in fashionable circles are patterns of reverence. They are head and shoulders in advance of the world in general.

FORNEY thinks that his party holds the "political ropes," and calls aloud to it, "Pull!" We see that Forney and Greeley have got each other by the ears, and we shout aloud to both of them, "Pull!"

"WHY, Tom, how are you, my good fellow? Where have you been for a week back?" "Why, I'm better; I've been to Dr. Stickem's for a strengthening plaster; but how did you know I had a weak back."

A GIRL who was making a dress put the sleeves in wrong. She was unable to change them, as she could not determine whether she had got the right sleeve in the wrong place, or the wrong sleeve in the right place.

So long its stood the test—

PRIVATE MEDICAL AID.

Quick Cures and Moderate Charges!

DR. W. K. DOHERTY'S

PRIVATE MEDICAL AND SURGICAL INSTITUTE,

Sacramento street, below Montgomery, opposite the Pacific Mail Steamship Co.'s office. Private entrance on Leidesdorff street, San Francisco.

Established expressly to afford the afflicted sound and scientific Medical aid, in the treatment and Cure of all Private and Chronic Diseases, cases of secrecy and all sexual disorders.

To the Afflicted.

Dr. W. K. DOHERTY, returns his sincere thanks to his numerous patients for their patronage, and would take this opportunity to remind them that he consults at his institute for the cure of chronic diseases of the Lungs, Liver, Kidneys, Digestive and Genito-Urinary organs, and all Private Diseases, viz: Syphilis in all its forms and stages, Seminal eakness, and all those horrid consequences of self-abuse, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Strictures, Nocturnal and Diurnal Emissions, Sexual Debility, Diseases of the Back and Loins, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, etc., etc.; and he hopes that his long experience and successful PRACTICE will continue to insure him a share of public patronage. By the practice of many years in Europe and the United States, he is enabled to apply the most efficient and successful remedies against diseases of all kinds. He uses no mercury, charges moderate, treats his patients in a correct and honorable way, and has references of unquestionable veracity from men of respectability and high standing in society. All parties consulting him, by letter or otherwise will receive the best and gentlest treatment and implicit secrecy.

To Females.

☞ When a female is in trouble or afflicted with such diseases as weakness of the back and limbs, pain in the head, dimness of sight loss of muscular power, palpitation of the heart, irritability, nervousness, extreme urinary difficulties, derangement of the digestive functions, general debility, vaginitis, all diseases of the womb, hysteria, sterility, and all other diseases peculiar to females, she should go or write at once to the celebrated female doctor W. K. Doherty, at his Medical Institute, and consult him about her troubles and disease. The Doctor is effecting more cures than any other Physician in the State of California. Let no false delicacy prevent you, but apply immediately and save yourself from painful sufferings and premature death. All married ladies whose delicate health or other circumstances prevent an increase in their families, should write or call at Dr. W. K. Doherty's Medical Institute, and they will receive every possible relief and help. The Doctor's offices are so arranged that he can be consulted without fear of observation.

To Correspondents.

Patients residing in any part of the State however distant, who may desire the opinion and advice of Dr. Doherty on their respective cases, and who think proper to submit a written statement of such, in preference to holding a personal interview, are respectfully assured that their communications will be held most sacred. Dr. Doherty takes this opportunity of observing, that all letters are opened only and replied to by himself, and the latter as promptly as possible. If the case be fully and candidly described personal communication will be unnecessary, as instructions for diet, regimen, and the general treatment of the case itself (including the remedies) will be forwarded without delay, and in such a maner as to convey no idea of the purport of the letter or parcel so transmitted.

☞ Consultation at the office or by letter free. Permanent cures guaranteed or no pay.

Address— W. K. DOHERTY, M.D.
San Francisco.
